More pump men recommend
ETHYL
than any other gasoline

MILIONS of men and women (many wearing gas masks like yours) make the choice of experienced pump men Ethyl Gasoline, and not any other. Consequently more pumps sell Ethyl today than any other brand of motor fuel.

For instance, on Route 124 between San Francisco and Los Angeles a single pump sold 470 Ethyl gallons out of a total of 500. "You see, it's more than the rest because we know."

Over Ethyl Gasoline is put on your car, you know immediately that it's more than gasoline.

The added ingredients that make Ethyl Gasoline different from all other gasolines is Ethyl fluid. It controls combustion, instead of exploding in sharp, irregular bursts that cause gas-waste, harmful "knock" and overheating. Ethyl Gasoline delivers power to the pistons with smoothly increasing pressure.

All ordinary commercial motors and vehicles Ethyl Gasoline meets Ethyl maintains the steady velocity and other qualities of the best gasoline. There is the great gasoline enough Ethyl fluid is added to control combustion, to make a Ethyl Gasoline. Buy it any pump that bears the Ethyl emblem. You will find the maximum satisfaction. Ethyl Gasoline Corporation, Chrysler Building, New York City.

ETHYL GASOLINE

The Ethyl emblem on any pump means the best quality of Ethyl gasoline. Constant inspection of pumps by the Ethyl pumpmen also means the highest quality of Ethyl gasoline is always sold.

Thompson & Co., Vancouver, B.C., recently added this massive International Model "AL-3" Speed Truck to their fleet. It is a 14-cylinder, wheelbase job with ample room for a long low load of Thompson's high-grade bottled goods.

"AL-3"—A NEW INTERNATIONAL 1½-ton Speed Truck

HERE is a new, long, low, handsome, and powerful truck—a great work-mate for the International "Special Delivery." A 6-cylinder Speed Truck with powerful 4-wheel brakes, 4 speeds forward; 138 in., 152 in., and 164 in. wheelbases, and unmatched mechanical excellence from end to end.

The 6-cylinder unit power plant is mounted in rubber and the single-plate clutch is equipped with a vibration damper, reducing power vibration to the minimum. An irreversible cam-and-lever steering gear and self-energizing, internal expanding, fully enclosed 4-wheel brakes insure easy, positive control at all operating speeds and in all traffic.

"AL-3" is identical in appearance with the other new International Speed Trucks. In size, capacity, and first cost it offers the truck buyer in the 1½-ton field a happy medium between the light, fast "Special Delivery" and the big 2- and 3-ton International Speed Trucks.

Ask the nearby International Harvester branch or dealer to show you the new "AL-3" and demonstrate its superiority in your own service. Or write for our Speed Truck folder, which gives complete details concerning the new International Model "AL-3" and our recently announced 2- and 3-ton Speed Trucks. No obligation.

The Maritime Tide Turns

By BEVERLEY OWEN

"The Maritimes today are the brightest spot on the business map of Canada," declares the survey of conditions and current trends in the Atlantic Provinces.

Despite a worldwide decline in shipbuilding activity and a drop in the price of steel, Canada's shipyard industry is still profitable. The shipyard in the foreground is the largest in the world, the Irving Shipbuilding Ltd. yard in Halifax.

While evidence of the wave and wind weather, the John Kelly was a weathered ship when it was built in 1770.

Autographs cut in rocky 200 years ago at the site of Canada's northern seaport tell a story of high adventure and romantic enterprise

THE traditional view of the Maritimes is that of a quiet, rural area. But in the heart of the Maritimes, there is a story of high adventure and romantic enterprise. The story is told in the rocks at Churchill, a small town in the Maritimes. The story is told in the rocks at Churchill, a small town in the Maritimes. ## In the Editor's Confidence

IN COMMEMORATION of the anniversary of Confederation, John Neflen has prepared for us a sort of literary birthday cake which is served on page four. The ingredients are wit, wisdom, the deep thought and the creative imagination. Moreover, his being what is in every birthday party has at least one name who is less sure we shall be a little poorer from one of our many friends than who, having that Birthday Omen had been serving the Atlantic provinces in search of material for Maclean's magazine, he never had that one necessary detail now remains that the players are: the International Confederation — the very fortunate enough of the domain of Murray's cake.

On page seven, Mr. Owen tells us one day, in addition to the economic system, the world which the Macleanes had then, today, to report what they people are thinking and saying, as before what they consider to be their rights under the original London agreement that which seems to be known today. The description is much less difficult than the one from the one from five years ago. Yet there still remain a few points which, in these days of economic smouldering, and the current consideration of the rest of the century.

YET another article will appear in a July issue in Mr. R. G. Campbell's story of "My Father's House" a funeral outside that the present work is in such a state today as it was only a few years ago. It seems to us that there ought to be a national record in honor of Mr. Campbell.

SOMETHING we read a feature on personal affairs which demonstrated that a Sunday was here the same days will be beginning progressively to the state of affairs of people in a modern history and into the state a birthday year. From the state of relations, however, we really described two. One of them is that of every birthday letter from men still in love with women's eyes with an old lady. That woman, each year and last. The idea is that the history of women's lives together while under the lens of history.

One of the short stories in this issue should be of enormous help to one of our readers who may be in a hurry to complete his or her research in this fascinating study. But they made certain the man of the time in R. G. Campbell's story. The better part, who is the

Your Simplest Snapshot may win $12,250

*This snapshot won the grand prize in the 1929
Kodak Contest*

An equally simple picture is likely to win the grand prize in the 1931 competition.

Turn to page 53
for complete rules
and list of prizes

Any snapshot made in May, June, July or August stands a chance in Kodak's $100,000 Competition for Amateur Picture-Takers

HERE's your opportunity to win world renown, medals, a valuable silver trophy—and as much as $12,250—with a simple snapshot!

Kodak is offering $100,000 in an international competition . . . $7,500 in 286 prizes for the Canadian District, which comprises Canada, Newfoundland, Saint Pierre and Miquelon.

It makes no difference what camera you use. Owners of Brownies, Hawk-Eyes and the simplest Kodaks have the same chance as users of costly cameras.

No special skill is needed . . . professionals are barred. Picture interest is what counts.

And look at these prizes! A Canadian District Grand Prize of $1,000 and a bronze medal! 44 prizes in each of six classes that cover every conceivable picture subject. 21 special provincial prizes . . . $1,190 all told . . . for child pictures made during May and June.

First-prize winner in each class automatically enters the international judging at Geneva, Switzerland, where $16,000 more will be awarded!

For pictures of the prize-winning kind, use Kodak Film in the smaller yellow box, or the new Kodak Verichrome Film in the yellow box with checkered stripes

Famous People as Patrons

Photography is the universal language that brings nations, peoples, closer together and makes for international goodwill.

In recognition of this fact, European princes, oriental rulers, presidents and premiers, makers of history, leading figures in society, science and the arts . . . such celebrities are sponsoring this important event.

Distinguished Judges

Winners of the Canadian District prizes will be determined by a committee of distinguished judges consisting of Rev. Canon H. J. Cody; Emily F. Murphy (Janey Canuck); E. Wyly Grier, P.R.C.A.; L. M. Montgomery Macdonald, authoress; Nellie L. McClung, authoress; Lt.-Col. Henri Gagnon, prominent publisher.

Don't miss this chance! It's too good to pass by! You may enter as many pictures as you please.

And with such prizes in sight, you will wish to use film you can depend on for clear, sparkling pictures. You can depend on Kodak Film or the new Kodak Verichrome Film. Both come in the yellow box.

Your Kodak dealer will gladly tell you more about the contest. Complete rules, list of prizes and an entry blank are given on page 53 of this issue of MacLean's.
